6. [10 points] Consider a window the shape of which is a rectangle of height h surmounted by a triangle having a height T that is two times the width w of the rectangle (see the figure below which is not drawn to scale). If the total area of the window is 5 square feet, determine the dimensions of the window which minimize the perimeter.