4. [8 points]   Consider a solid whose base is contained between the curves $y = e^x$, $y = 1$, and $x = 3$. Cross-sectional slices perpendicular to the x-axis are rectangles, having length contained in the base region mentioned above and height determined by $g(x) = x^2$. Determine the exact volume of this solid.